Design Tips for Custom Candle Labels

Our downloadable file templates make it easy to design your own candle labels, especially if you already have a logo and brand assets from a graphic designer. That said, if you don't have the budget for graphic design work, no worries—simple, minimalist candle labels are on trend.

- You don't need to stick with a traditional rectangle. Add rounded corners, use a circle or oval, or choose any shape you like for a completely custom design.
- Because people use candles to decorate their homes, it's best to create a sophisticated candle label that will fit into any decor style.
- You can't go wrong with choosing an eye-catching typeface for the product name and a basic sans-serif for the rest of your text.
- Uses colors that match the scent of your candle—orange for pumpkin, forest green for pine, etc.
- Vector graphics are a great way to add visual interest to a candle label even if you don't have a graphic designer.
