Design Tips for Cosmetic Boxes

Your cosmetic boxes send an important message about your products. Here are some things to consider when creating your design:

- Think about your target market. Use bold colors and glossy finishes for products marketed to teens and young adults; choose a more subdued look and a premium matte finish for luxury cosmetics.
- For a cohesive look, make sure your cosmetic boxes and bottles are matching or coordinated.
- Minimalism is on-trend with cosmetics packaging, but a well-executed maximalist design with eye-catching graphics and a high-gloss UV finish will turn heads.
- To make your cosmetic boxes look polished, print a simple pattern or color on the inside.
